

Ordinary pens need to be accurate at a water temperature of about 25 °C.

The test pen with ATC is not required, and it will automatically compensate the water temperature to 25 °C when measuring.

